

Considering residential care? Tips and guidelines

Uniting AgeWell is holding a FREE community information session about residential care and where to start.

This information session will explore what is involved, where to get the information you need and important issues to think about when making your decision.

It will also help you understand the My Aged Care website, prepare for the assessment needed and the documents required in preparation for an admission into residential care.

The session will be presented by Uniting AgeWell admission coordinators.
